Democracy in Chains
The Deep History of the Radical Right’s Stealth Plan for America

Finalist for the 2017 National Book Award

Professor Nancy MacLean, William H. Chafe Professor of History and Public Policy at Duke University, will give a talk on the intellectual roots of the Radical Right’s concerted attack on shared prosperity, public enterprise and democratic government.

Thursday, November 30, 2017 3 – 5 PM
Alexander Library, 169 College Avenue, New Brunswick
Room 403 (Teleconference/Lecture Hall)

TO RESERVE YOUR SEAT, GO TO: rutgersaaup.org/events

The program will be streamed at: www.facebook.com/RUaaup/

Please arrive early for a coffee/tea reception from 2:30 – 3 PM.

CO-SPONSORED BY: Neoliberalism Working Group of the CCA; the Department of History; the Department of Labor Studies & Employment Relations (SMLR); and Rutgers AAUP/AFT