

RUTGERS DISTINGUISHED LECTURES IN EUROPEAN HISTORY 2012-2013

14 November 2012

Benjamin Nathans

(University of Pennsylvania)

"Toward a Transnational History of Human Rights: Amnesty International and Soviet Dissidents"

Alexander Library Teleconference Room

6 December 2012

Samuel Moyn

(Columbia University)

"The Universal Declaration of Human Rights in the History of Cosmopolitanism"

Van Dyck 301

21 February 2013

Sir David Cannadine

(Princeton University)

"Winston Churchill, Anglo-America, and the 'Special Relationship' Revisited"

Alexander Library Teleconference Room
(Co-sponsored with the Rutgers British Studies Center)

4 March 2013

Mary Louise Roberts

(University of Wisconsin, Madison)

"Rape Hysteria and the Sexual Economy of Race: French Accusations of Sexual Assault against African-American G.I.s, 1944-1946"

Alexander Library Teleconference Room

8 April 2013

Debora Silverman

(University of California, Los Angeles)

"Art of Darkness: Art Nouveau, 'Style Congo,' and the Tervuren Royal Museum for Central Africa in Belgium, 1897-2011"

Alexander Library Teleconference Room

ALL LECTURES AT 4:30 PM

THE HISTORY DEPARTMENT

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

Sponsored by the History Department and SAS Rutgers-New Brunswick.

RUTGERS
NEW BRUNSWICK