DRAFT SYLLABUS FOR S18: READINGS AND TOPICS MAY CHANGE, BUT THIS IS A GOOD INDICATION OF THE KINDS OF ISSUES, MATERIALS, AND METHODS THAT WE WILL COVER

506: 299: 04: History Workshop
The Holocaust: History, Memory, and Historical Practice
T/TH 6.10-7.30, Scott Hall 201

Prof. Paul Hanebrink
101A Van Dyck Hall
hanebrin@history.rutgers.edu
Office Hours: Thursday, 3.30-5.30pm

Course Description
The History Workshop is designed to teach the basic methods of historical practice. How do historians define research problems and questions? What are primary sources? How do historians find them, interpret them, and use them to write histories? What are secondary sources? How do historians find them and use them to help write histories? What is the difference between writing history and simply remembering the past?

In this class, we will learn and apply these skills in the context of studying aspects of the Holocaust. The Holocaust has been the subject of an unprecedented amount of scholarship in the last several decades. Countless books have been written about many different topics. Numerous sources have been translated from their original languages into English, making it possible for many more historians (including us!) to think and write about the Holocaust. At the same time, there has been an explosion of testimony given by survivor witnesses, who feel compelled to tell their story to others so that memory of what happened to them will be transmitted to future generations. What is the relationship between history and memory? What kinds of questions can and do historians ask about the Holocaust? What influence does the widespread emphasis in our culture on remembering the Holocaust have on historians? What role should it play in the work of historians?

Learning Goals
1. Explore how historical knowledge is produced.
2. Introduce students to the problems and practices involved in historical research, including assessing the strengths and weaknesses of different kinds of sources.
3. Introduce students to the problems and practices in historical interpretation, including evaluating conflicting historical interpretations; exploring how the ways in which historians frame their questions influences their interpretations.
4. Introduce students to the problems and practices involved in historical writing and narration.

Readings
There are two required books.

All other course readings are available on Sakai, under “Resources.” These are marked on the syllabus.

Written Assignments and Evaluation

All writing should be in 12 point font, doubled spaced. Portfolio assignments should be uploaded to the course dropbox and turned in in class.

- Portfolio Assignments: 6 short written assignments that respond to specific given questions about either class readings or your project as it is developing. (1-2 pages each) (5% each, 30% total)
- Final Project: A document “anthology” (50%)
  - Draft Introduction due 4/20: 10%
  - Workshop Presentation on 4/20-27: 10%
  - Final Draft due 5/5: 30%
- Active Participation in class discussions and in office hours (20%)

Final Class Project

I will give you more information about the final project once we have begun the class. For now, here is a brief description:

You will put together an anthology of historical documents that could be used to answer a historical question. You will write an introduction to this anthology as well as brief “editorial” introductions to each document, and provide a conclusion about the questions that these documents pose and the answers that they offer. You must locate at least 6 primary documents (two of which must be video testimonies from the VHA) and 4 relevant secondary sources.

Schedule of Classes

You must complete each reading for the day of class. You will need to bring a copy of these readings with you to class.

Week 1

January 17 Why is this class about the Holocaust?

January 19 Why did Kristallnacht happen?

All of today’s readings are in the Arad Document Collection:

- Extracts from Mein Kampf by Hitler
- Riots of Kristallnacht – Heydrich’s Instructions
- Discussions by the Authorities Following Kristallnacht
- Regulation for the Elimination of the Jews from the Economic Life of Germany
- SS Views on the Solution of the Jewish Question

Week 2

January 24 How was Kristallnacht experienced by its intended targets?

All of today’s readings are in the Arad Document Collection:
• Description of the Riot at Dinslaken
• Letter Describing the Deportation to Zbasyn
• Emmanuel Ringelblum’s Notes on the Refugees in Zbasyn

Portfolio Assignment #1 due

January 26  When historical actors don’t do what you expect, or why did German Jews stay in Germany so long?

All of today’s readings are in the Arad Document Collection:
• “Wear It with Pride, The Yellow Badge,” Article by Robert Welsch
• Proclamation by the Central Committee of German Jews for Relief and Reconstruction
• The Position of the German Jews, As Seen By Alfred Wiener, of the Leadership of the Centralverein
• Instruction for Jewish Public Elementary Schools, January 1934
• Report on the Activities of the Hilfsverein in the Year 1933

Week 3

January 31  What were the responses to Kristallnacht in the United States and Great Britain?
• In Class Exercise: How would we search for American or British responses to Kristallnacht? What can we find? We will learn about and use various search tools to answer these questions.

February 2  How do historians ask and answer questions about events?
• Alan E. Steinweis, Kristallnacht 1938, 56-99 (Sakai)

Week 4

February 7  How can historians ask very different questions about the same event? Or, what was Kristallnacht really about?
• Marion Kaplan, Between Dignity and Despair. Jewish Life in Nazi Germany, 119-145 (Sakai)

Portfolio assignment #2 due

February 9  How is testimony made much later similar or different to sources from the time? – A first crack at the problem
• In Class: We will watch an excerpt of an interview with a Holocaust survivor together and discuss it, in light of our discussions so far.

Week 5

February 14  Asking Research Questions about the Holocaust:
• Individual Meetings: Final Project Brainstorming Session

February 16  Asking Research Questions about the Holocaust:
• Individual Meetings: Final Project Brainstorming Session

Also this week: Begin reading Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz, 1-56
Week 6
February 21  Witnesses and Historians I: Do historians have any obligation to read a source in a particular way if its author intended to “bear witness?”
• Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz, 56-116

February 23  Witnesses and Historians II: Do historians have any obligation to read a source in a particular way if its author intended to “bear witness?”
• Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz, 116-175

Week 7
February 28  The Shoah Foundation Visual History Archive: What is it? How do you use it?
• Jeffrey Shandler, “Holocaust Survivors on Schindler’s List; or, Reading a Digital Archive Against the Grain” (Sakai)
• In-Class: Familiarize ourselves with the search features of the VHA.

Portfolio Assignment #3 due

March 2  What kind of a source is witness testimony?
• Assignment: read Annette Wieviorka, “The Witness in History” (Sakai)
• In Class: Watch and discuss selected excerpts from testimony of TBA.

Week 8
March 7  What are some of the differences between witness testimony and other sources, especially those produced at the historical moment in question?
Assignment: Read the following documents from the Arad Document Collection
• Lecture on the Establishment of the Warsaw Ghetto (Doc. #101)
• Smuggling of Food into the Warsaw Ghetto (Doc. #102)
• Dilemma of Jewish Self-Help (Doc. #105)
• Protocol of a Session of the Judenrat in Bialystok (Doc. #118)
In Class: We will discuss these documents and also watch and discuss selections for a testimony of TBA.

March 9  What is a secondary source and how do you find them?
• At home: generate a list of search terms that you might use to track down secondary sources on your topic.
• In-class: Searching for secondary sources. Using search engines such as Historical Abstracts, JSTOR, Google Scholar. Also, a word of warning about Google.

Week 9
March 21  Portfolio Assignment #4 due when you meet with me on 3/21 or 3/23
Individual Meetings

March 23  Individual Meetings

Week 10
March 28: How have historians used witness testimony as a historical source?
• Christopher Browning, Remembering Survival. Inside a Nazi Slave-Labor Camp, excerpt TBA (Sakai)
• In-class: Discuss reading and excerpts of testimonies used by Browning.
March 30  How have historians used witness testimony as a historical source?
• Christopher Browning, Remembering Survival. Inside a Nazi Slave-Labor Camp, excerpt TBA (Sakai)
• In-class: Discuss essay and excerpts of testimonies used by Browning.

Week 11
April 4  How to read a secondary source closely I: Collaboration in the Holocaust

Portfolio Assignment #5 due

April 6  How to read a secondary source closely II: Motives for Killing

Week 12
April 11  How to read a secondary source closely III: The Problem of Rescue

April 13  How can historians use photographs as sources?
• Carol Zemel, “Emblems of Atrocity: Holocaust Liberation Photographs” (Sakai)
• Selected Photographs (Sakai)

Portfolio Assignment #6 due

Week 14
April 18  How historically accurate can or should movies be?
• In-class: We will watch excerpts from the movie, The Pianist, and discuss together.

April 20  Workshop Presentation
• Draft of Introductions to your Final Project is due

Week 15
April 25  Workshop Presentation

April 27  Workshop Presentation

Your Final Project is due by 12:00 pm (noon) on Friday, May 5.