

THE JOHN WHITECLAY CHAMBERS II ORAL HISTORY GRADUATE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP PRESENTS:

A LECTURE WITH ANNA RICHEY

SPONSORED BY THE RUTGERS ORAL HISTORY ARCHIVES, RUTGERS LIVING HISTORY SOCIETY, DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY, AND OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

WED. APRIL 13, 2022

7:00 PM

Anna Richey is a doctoral fellow in the History Department at Rutgers University who specializes in the history of women, gender, and sexuality in 20th century United States.

Her lecture, "Fighting Back: How Anti-Rape Activists Fostered Feminism on Campus" examines students in both the Women's Liberation and Civil Rights Movements and their work to stop rape within their communities.

Oral histories allow scholars to center the voices of survivors and activists who redefined public discourse on gendered violence. These interviews illuminate the powerful history of student-led grassroots organizing, the implementation of Title IX within higher education, and the growth of the supposedly "safe space" of the modern college campus.

Students and guests are welcome to participate in a question-and-answer session after the lecture.
